AMERICAN GIRL TO MARRY A FOREIGN NOBLEMAN

Noblemen who have been "reported engaged" to Miss Drexel; Prince Francis of Teck, Prince Louis of Orleans, Duke of Lehrer, Lord Waldegrave, Lord Dalmeny, Lord Herbert Vane-Tempest, Viscount Royston, Lord Howard De Walden, Sir Charles Hartopp, Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 15.—A cable message received this week by relatives in Baltimore from Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, who are in London, announces the engagement of their Nor was the engagement of Miss Gould and young Drexel suspected at that time. While no date is set for either wedding, it is the impression among friends of the Drexel family that they will take place at about the same time—Miss Gould's in New York and Miss Drexel's in London.

Miss Gould and Miss Drexel have been intimate friends for several years. Both have been presented at court, both have been received in the most exclusive society of London and Paris, both have been courted by men of title, but Miss Gould selected a plain American for her husband, while her friend preferred a British nobleman.

daughter, Miss Margaretta Armstrong Drexel, heir to the fortunes of Whitchurch and Nottingham.

This announcement comes as quite a surprise to all except a few personal friends, for though Miss Drexel has been reported engaged to no less than 10 of the highest titled noblemen in Europe, this is the first public mention of the name of Viscount Maldstone.

Miss Drexel is a sister of Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., whose engagement to Miss Marjorie Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, was announced in New York a fortnight ago.

She visited relatives in New York and Philadelphia with her mother last November. At that time she only laughed when asked about the number of titled foreigners who had courted her, and insisted that she was still heart-whole and fancy-free.

The family has been distinguished in governmental affairs throughout several generations. Sir Horatio Finch having been attorney general, and lord keeper of the great seal, was subsequently appointed lord chancellor.

JOKER IN THAT ORDINANCE FOR NEW PAYSCALE?

COUNCIL'S REVISED SALARY
SCHEDULE IS SAID TO BE VOID

MAIN ST. PAVING PROGRAM

Was Adopted At Session Last Night—
Photographers Want Protection—
Election Officers Named—No Action On Franchises.

PROPOSED SALARY CHANGES.

- City Treasurer—Cut from $1,400... to $1,200 per annum.
- City Attorney—Raised from $800... to $1,200.
- City Engineer—Raised from $1,200 to $1,400.
- Street Commissioner—Raised from $800 to $1,000.
- Patrolmen—Raised from $60 to $65 per month.

Because the ordinance readjusting the salary scale which was passed by unanimous vote at the common council meeting last evening contained a clause to the effect that the measure "should be in effect on and after the passage," which is held to be directly opposed to the state law which declares that an officer's compensation may not be changed during his term of office, it is extremely likely that the whole enactment is void. In which event it may be impossible to do any tinkering with alterations and amendments, since the charter requires that the salary scale be determined at the first meeting in February. Wherefore it would appear that the old schedule which has been in effect during the past year is likely to do service not only during the next two months, but also, in the case of officers named at the approaching spring election, for the next two years.

The ordinance, as originally passed last evening, overlooked the junior and a supplementary measure providing for that often had to be introduced and voted upon.

City Attorney Maxfield, who drafted the ordinance, was not present at the meeting last evening. He could not be interviewed this morning, but Mayor Carle, while reserving judgment until he could consult with the lawyers, was of the opinion that the new schedule is void.

The portion of the compensation scale left unchanged by the alleged invalid enactment last evening was as follows:

Mayor	$ 300
Alderman	130
City Clerk	1,100
Chief of Police	1,200
Fire Chief	1,200
Asst. Treasurer	360
Asst. Fire Chief	150
1st Reading Patrolman	900
Fireman C. J. Murphy	900
Janitor City Hall	720
Full paid firemen	780
Firemen (1 yr. service)	720
Call men	120
Asst. Street Commissioner	480

The assistant street commissioner is employed from April 1 to Dec. 1 and receives $60 a month.

IT'S "O. K." AFTER ALL.

After talking with City Attorney Maxfield, Ex-City Attorney Fred C. Burpee, and other lawyers, Mayor Carle was convinced that the measure was valid after all and this afternoon affixed his signature. The statute which stipulates how and when the salaries of city officers shall be determined also declares that changes do not become operative until the beginning of the new official year, that is, following the spring election, and it is held that in this instance the intent is what counts and that there can be no question regarding the intent of the measure passed last evening.

To Pave S. Main Street.

Prior to the recent, owners of the South Main street property affected were given an opportunity to offer objections or suggestions regarding the proposed paving of that thoroughfare, between the St. Lawrence avenue and Racine street intersections, with brick. No one accepted the invitation. On motion of the committee on highways, the plans and specifications and final report on the improvement were adopted and a resolution was passed assessing the benefits and damages and apportioning that the city should pay $2,441.08 of the cost. On this latter resolution a single, lonesome, negative vote was cast by Alderman Brown.

Jefferson Avenue Protest.

At a previous session the council, in response to a petition purporting to come from most of the interested property-owners, passed a resolution calling for the macadamizing of the portion of Jefferson avenue lying between Ringer avenue and South Second street intersections. Last evening a group of these residents, including Jessie Earle, O. D. Bates, E. C. Bailey, R. J. Hultom, J. L. Bostwick, R. M. Bostwick, Jr., Floyd Hurd, J. P. Thompson, Mr. J. Youngelman, and George L. Hatch filed a petition of protest against the action. They declared that the signatures appearing on the previous petition were obtained through representations that the purpose was merely to get a movement started for improvement of the street in some manner to be agreed upon at a conference of the parties affected; that no such conference was ever held; that the petition for macadamizing was presented without their knowledge; that such form of improvement was not needed at this time on a residence street which was but little used; and that the majority of lot owners were opposed to it. Jessie Earle addressed the aldermen regarding the matter. No action was taken by the council.

Center Avenue.

A resolution calling for the improvement of Center avenue from Pleasant street to the Monterey bridge with cement gutter and curbing, at the expense of the real estate to be benefited, and called upon the street assessment committee to view the premises and determine the benefits and damages, was also passed without opposition.

Private Sewer Taken Over.

A resolution setting forth the fact that S. B. Heddes, Dr. C. C. Devoreaux, C. B. Evans, Edward Amerpoli, W. H. Hazen, George H. Cronce, L. N. Head, Dr. E. E. Loomb, Abbie A. Corwin and others were the owners of a private sanitary sewer running from Terraeno street which had been used by the city to carry the surface water on Mineral Point avenue west of Washington street; that the city desired to construct manholes and control the said sewer; and calling for the payment of $7.87 to each of ten joint-owners and $25 to Abbie Corwin the proprieator for recent outlays and vest in the municipality the needful ownership and control, was introduced by Alderman Buchholz and passed without dissenting voice. Ald. Evans, who was an interested party in the transaction, was excused from voting.

Transfers of various sums between the main outlet, district sewer, and general funds to adjust and square up the accounts on an equitable basis, were authorized.

Orders for Over $14,000.

The finance committee's report on bills, which was adopted, authorized the payment of $1,894.80 for services to the city during the past month. The outlays were: lighting, $1,163.34; new fire hose, $270.75; street work, etc., $460.71.

The city clerk was directed to draw orders on the treasurer in favor of the First National bank, payable from the fire and water fund, for $1,118.33 to satisfy City Note 117; for $101.43 to satisfy Note 118; for $1,619.20 to satisfy Note 123; and for $2,028.67, payable from the general fund to satisfy Note 129.

To draw orders on the treasurer, payable from the judgment fund, for $637.50 payable to the Merchants & Savings bank, assignee of H. & J. Breitweiser; for $420 payable to William Detmier; for $130.63 payable to William Buggs, assignee of William McDermott; for $105 payable to the Merchants & Savings bank, assignee of Richard Harry; and for $131.25 payable to Dennis Harry. All of these judgments have been deducted in the circuit court and money raised by taxation to pay the same.

The clerk was also directed to draw an order for $12,911 payable from the general fund to F. E. Liebke as reimbursement for the erroneous assessment of an imaginary building on lot 6, block 6 of the Rockport addition.

Health and Other Reports.

According to Health Officer S. B. Buckmaster's quarterly report, which was submitted and accepted, there was no smallpox or typhoid fever in the city and no patient in the detention hospital at the beginning of the present month. Three cases of scarlet fever existed in November and one in December. There were four cases of diphtheria in November and one in December. Vital statistics were as follows:

Nov. Dec. Jan.

Marriages 20 14 13

Births 21 26 22

Deaths 20 16 27

Accidents 16 11 17

The municipal court report showed that fees, fines, and penalties totaling $1438.59 had been collected during the month of January. Reports from the board of education and the city treasurer were submitted and accepted.

Further Time on Franchises.

The Beloit, Dolavon Lake & Janesville Interurban Ry. Co. filed application for an amendment to its franchise permitting the use of the street car tracks on the east side of the river for its cars and the same was accompanied by an affidavit of publication. The judiciary committee was granted further time for the consideration of the proposition.

Three local photographers—the Messrs. Bogardus, Barlow, and Whalen filed petition to have ordinance No. 300, relating to transient merchants, extended so as to protect their craft. The judiciary committee was also granted further time for the consideration of this request.

Election Officers Named.

Mayor Carle appointed the election officers who are to serve during the next two years and his appointments were confirmed. The list is as follows:

FIRST WARD: Inspectors—Charles H. Eller, George H. Davis, and J. P. Baker. Clerks—H. W. McNamara and Thomas Dowling. Ballot Clerks—David Conner and Thomas McNamara.

Library Roof Repairs.

Chairman Evans of the committee on public buildings stated that attention had been called to the deplorable condition of the public library roof and that his committee had secured two sets of plans for repairs. They had decided to recommend the one calling for flat seam tiling for the lower 33 feet on the north and south sides and wrought iron for the upper 20 feet on the north and south sides. There was a division of opinion as to what should be done with the sky-light. On motion the whole matter was left entirely with the building committee, with instructions to adopt plans and call for bids.

Alderman Richardson was the only absentee from the session.

OLD RESIDENT OF JANESEVILLE DEAD

Mrs. Henry S. Shelton of Chicago, who for many years made her home here, died Sunday.

Mrs. Henry S. Shelton of Chicago passed away Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. P. Leonard. For many years Mrs. Shelton was a well-known resident of this city and among the older residents she had many friends. She was born at Roslyn, Long Island, November 11, 1827, and married Henry S. Shelton in 1850. Soon after they settled in Janesville, where for many years almost up to the time of his death Mr. Shelton was a prominent dry goods merchant. During all those early years in Janesville Mrs. Shelton was prominent in social life and her home was the scene of many of the social affairs of that time. She was always a charming hostess filled with cordiality for her friends, and foremost in all the semi-public affairs of the church and of society.

Mr. Shelton died in 1886. The family soon afterwards moved to Chicago. Mrs. Shelton had five children, two of whom survive her, Henry Shelton and Mrs. F. P. Leonard, both of Chicago. Mrs. Shelton's death takes away another of those early settlers of Janesville whose long and useful lives have been affectionate links between our own days and those early times when Janesville was a western frontier town filled with all the life and ambition of youth.

The remains will arrive here tomorrow morning at 11:45 over the North-Western railroad and will be taken directly to Oak Hill. Funeral services will be held in the chapel.

Michael Angelo de Vittorio, Salvatore di Cola and Samuel Arena at work in their cottage. From specially posed photograph.

San Francisco, Cal.—Michael Angelo de Vittorio, Salvatore di Cola and Samuel Arena were arrested in a cheap cottage on Bernal heights January 15 by secret service men while turning out counterfeit coins from a plant that would be creditable to a mint.

The plant contained everything from press to chemicals, being altogether the most complete of any ever uncovered by Secret Service Operatives Harry Moffit and J. M. Nye.

For at least six weeks the three men, to whom English is still a foreign tongue, had been perfecting their plan under the nose of the secret service. Their experimental coins had been passed out only to find their way into the hands of the watchmen.

Moffit and Nye went to the cottage, accompanied by Detective Sergeants James Ragan and Patrick O'Connell from the police, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Nye and O'Connell stood outside to guard against escape, while Moffit and Ragan entered through the unlocked door.

The counterfeitors were taken completely off their guard. Apparently they had made no preparations for resisting arrest, excepting that Arena carried a cheap revolver. He wore also a star of the Pacific Humane Society on his coat. The other two were unarmed.

When surprised, Arena dropped a lead impression of a $5 gold piece between his feet and tried to conceal it under the instep of a shoe. Another die for a $10 gold piece was found under a sofa. As the men put on their coats preparatory to entering the patrol wagon, Mrs. Arena came into the room with her three babies. She did not understand what had happened and made no outcry.

A search of the room revealed silver counterfeited money in dimes and quarters amounting to a few dollars in value. The coins evidently were experimental and both Moffit and Nye believe the men were preparing to stamp $5 and $10 gold pieces in silver and plate them with gold. The dies for the silver coins were of hard steel.

The outfit, which was removed to the postoffice building on a truck to be used as evidence, included a large steel turning lathe, two presses of which the larger weighed more than 200 pounds, two hives and a bag of tools for steel work, a melting pot, muriatic acid, silver chloride, silver cyanide, mercury and cyanide of potassium. The gold piece dies were incomplete, only the heads being finished.

San Francisco, Cal.—A commercial excursion in China this fall, in which the entire Pacific coast and the Hawaiian Islands will be represented, was authorized last week by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of California, Oregon and Washington. The trip is intended to bring China and the United States into closer trade relations.

The Americans will visit not only the principal ports of China, but will make their way to those sections of the country where it is believed a trade can be developed. The Chinese government has taken a deep interest in the proposed trip and has invited the Chinese for American goods. A great many business men have already expressed a desire to join in the trip, but the accommodations are limited and for that reason it was deemed advisable to confine the personnel to members of the coast bodies.

Captain Dolan will leave for China this month and was given full power to make arrangements for the visit. He pointed out yesterday that ships from China come to this country well filled while they returned with half cargoes. He asserted that a wider market should be developed among the Chinese for American goods.

A great many business men have already expressed a desire to join in the trip, but the accommodations are limited and for that reason it was deemed advisable to confine the personnel to members of the coast bodies.

There was some debate as to whether or members of the excursion should be allowed to take their families. A tentative decision was reached that of the five allotments to each commercial body three at least should be filled by men. The idea prevailed that the social side should be well subordinated to the commercial.

STOCK FLUCTUATIONS.

As far as the general public understands the situation the fluctuation of stocks in the great money mart of America, Wall Street, it might as well be a quotation from an old Greek poet. The Wall Street Journal, however, makes the following explanation of the situation that will prove interesting and instructive:

"It is a fact, as suggested in some of the current newspaper articles, that the value of leading securities quoted on the Stock Exchange has really shrunk by a thousand millions of dollars, or possibly even by a billion and a half during the last decline in quotations? Do such figures justify the conclusion that a corresponding change has taken place in the value of the property of the country?"

"The answer to these questions may fairly be said to be negative. The total wealth of the country in land and capital is about $110,000,000,000; the value of all corporate securities, including a certain proportion of duplication, is nearly $10,000,000,000. A shrinkage of $1,500,000,000 in security values would represent, therefore, a loss to the country of nearly one and one-half per cent of its total wealth and a loss to the corporations of nearly four per cent."

"As a matter of fact, no such serious losses have occurred. The reason that they can be computed from the fluctuations of the stock market in that the market is a sensitive barometer of the movement of that portion of the national capital which has not found permanent employment. This floating capital competes in the stock market for the securities which have not been distributed. These undistributed stocks and bonds are what were called in 1903 'undigested' securities."

"The relation of undigested securities, and also the relation of the floating capital seeking new investments to the total in either case is a very small fraction. It represents only the supply on the margin. It is the interplay of demand and supply in this comparatively narrow field which causes market fluctuations."

"Because undistributed stocks are largely carried at the banks in loans to speculators, who are subject to the embarrassment of sudden calls for liquidation or additional margin, their prices are subject to wider changes than the steady investment securities which are carried in private strong-boxes. The latter may fluctuate seriously if thrown upon the market at a time when purchasers are few and hard pressed, but they are not dealt with under such conditions in thousands of shares, like the undisturbed securities."

"Fluctuations are wider in the American market than in most foreign markets by reason of our system of 'call loans,' which often compels us suddenly to halt in speculation on the application of the emergency brakes to a railway train or a motor car. It has sometimes been said that New York is the only call money market in the world. There is some truth in this statement, but there are disadvantages in it of the character which arise where a barometer is so sensitive that it exaggerates, instead of merely reflecting, the movements which it is set up to record."

CANNON THE ISSUE.

The Chicago Tribune has just completed another straw poll of the newspapers of several of the Northwestern states and prints it with great relish. The affair reveres back mainly to a fight on Cannon, fight which the Tribune would have the public believe is national in its scope. Like many others of the sensational news agencies, both magazines and newspapers, the public is to be fooled into believing that the defeat of Cannon is essential to the continuance of the republican party. When the time comes that the republican party policies can be dominated by one man and the public can be fooled into believing that he is the real Czar of the country, it is time to quit the following of the G. O. P. Cannon is but a spoke in the great wheel of the republican party and despite the Tribune and other magazines and papers that seek to defeat him, is not to blame for the existing conditions in this country half as much as the harpies that sit on the fence eager to swoop down and devour public prosperity when the guardian is driven away by their croakings. Straw votes often tell which way the wind of sentiment blows, but seldom decide matters. Questions of national importance are settled by the voters at the polls, exercising their right of franchise. The injustice of taking the opinion of a few individuals, quoting their personal views to decide matters of importance and then heralding it as the opinion of the country as a whole is evidenced by the attitude the Tribune takes in seeking to impress not only the public but President Taft, that the voice of the people have spoken against him and his administration. President Taft needs no defense. No republican need excuse his actions. He stands as the representative of the people, elected by the people and not by the Tribune or any sensational magazine. While many editorial writers, many business men, may differ with him as to certain policies, still, the wholesale denunciation of the republican party is not to be decided by the opinion of individuals, by the defeat of Cannon and Aldrich, through the medium of the press which is biased and seeks the exploiting of personal aims as a reformer of a party that has stood the criticism of years and come out with flying colors. Should Cannon be defeated for re-election another speaker will be elected who will doubtless be as obnoxious to the sensational press should he seek to enforce the rules of the House and carry out the pledges of the party. Straw votes will not defeat Cannon, will not repudiate Taft or his administration. It takes votes at the polls to do this. Meanwhile the attacks on the administration continue and will continue in a medium of securing circulation by creating talk.

WISE IF LEGAL.

Last evening the common council adopted a salary scale for the coming year for city officers that showed a decided increase in many of the different departments. There is, however, a legal aspect to the passage of the measure that may invalidate it. It is hoped, however, that this is not true and that the commendable action of the council in increasing the salary list to figures that are commensurate to the work required will stand. It was a good move in the right direction.

Packers tell us present prices are necessary because there is not enough live stock raised in the country to supply the demand. If that is true, where did they get the 152,867,000 pounds of beef and 439,713,000 pounds of pork which the government's returns say were exported last year and sold in competition with the cheaper meats of Australia and Argentina?

Congress is being blamed and condemned for refusing to give Commander Peavy the rank of rear admiral for discovering the North Pole. Of course opinion differs as to the award that should be given him, but on the whole it seems safe to leave the matter with congress to decide.

There was a town in Ohio that was named Cook last summer by its enthusiastic citizens and now it has changed its name to Pearysville, truly a patriotic community.

Perhaps South Pole is laying low and waiting for an American explorer or two to come along and find it. Perhaps it is only playing hide and seek with Dr. Cook.

Dr. Charette found lots of snow and ice in the region of the South Pole. So did the people of Janesville and the ice on the walks is still to be discovered by any unwary pedestrian.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)

At the hash-workin' where I board, but one topic now prevails: "How the price of grub has soared!" Tremble the landlord walls. In his old, accustomed place, he is sitting, at such meals; bad and corporeal he be. THE—his face, as he carries his HIGH—almost, yeah. When I ask PRICES that robust joy, if he'll pass the butter round, "butter costs," I hear him say, "almost half a bone pound." When I want a slice of duck, his expression is a slit: "this thin drake cost me a buck, and the quacks were not thrown in!" Through the mucky coffee steam, I can hear him saying now: "I desired a pint of cream, and they charged me for a cow." "Let me have some beans," I cried—I was hungry we could be! "I was hungry we could be!" he weakly replied; "shall I give you two, or three?" Dennis, he said, "long years ago, of rank chaps were the signs; now they cost three cents a throw—and you do not get the vines." Once, at morn, wished an egg, and the landlord had a swoon; with his head soaked in a fog, he regained his mind by noon; "once," he moaned, "an egg who cheap things have changed, and since then, how the price would make you weep—and they don't throw in the bone!"

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TO THE SCHOOL CHILDREN.
And so you are in school again? When you look back it does seem the vacation was a short one. It was but the other day when you quit school and started in to have a lot of fun.

You find it is pretty hard to get down to your books again, of course. And you missed some picnics and frolics during vacation because of the chores, and—

It is fine weather out of doors. Why should any one have to pore over a sum in arithmetic or a lesson in geography? You would much rather go to the woods and kick up the dead leaves. The teacher is sometimes cross? That is what I want to talk about—that is, the teacher.

Did you ever stop to think that the vacation seemed short to the teacher too? And maybe some of her vacation plans went wrong, like yours?

Don't you suppose teacher knows the weather is fine? And would she not like to go to the woods?

But she cannot get out of the schoolroom either. She has somebody over her, just as you have somebody over you.

And don't you think when you are tired teacher also may be tired?

It is hard work to teach school. I have tried it and know. The teacher wants you to get your lessons so that you will grow up to be good men and women. That's why—not because she is boss. And when you fidget and will not study it worries her.

Put yourself in the teacher's place. What would you do—try, think of it? If you had to look after all the boys and girls in your room? There is only one of her, and there are a lot of you.

Let me tell you: Outside of your father and mother you have no better friend in the world than teacher, if you will let her be.

She wants your life to be successful and will do all she can to make it so. And if she fails she will be very sorry and feel that she did not do her duty.

"Is that the way teacher feels?" you ask. Just that way.

And, let me tell you, some day when you are grown up, if you are good men and women, the teacher will be very proud of you all.

And you will be glad that you were kind to her and tried to do what you could to please her.

Industrial and Commercial Club Met for Organization and Held Enthusiastic Session.

With a subscription list of between four and five thousand dollars, which means business, and enthusiasm for a renewed, shoulder-to-the-wheel effort to advance the economic interests of the community in every practical way, the Industrial and Commercial Club of Janesville was formally launched last evening. The club will employ a secretary to devote his entire energy to the "push" and "pull" proposition and to so order its program that "every wide-awake citizen, and some who have been noddling, will eventually, and pretty suddenly soon, also, find themselves lined up with the "boosting" crew and putting in the plugs that count."

Senator John M. Whitehead called the meeting to order and Frank H. Jackman acted as secretary. The articles of incorporation were read by J. A. Craig and the by-laws adopted. The following fifteen directors were elected to serve one year: A. P. Lovejoy, George G. Sutherland, F. H. Jackman, S. M. Smith, T. O. Howe, H. L. McNamara, H. H. Blatz, A. J. Gibbons, H. M. Dedrick, A. E. Matheson, J. L. Wilcox, P. J. Mount, Amos Rehberg, M. G. Jeffries, and J. A. Craig.

The organization has five general committees which have been created to deal with tariffs, legislation, industries, credits, and civic affairs. Their endeavors will cover a pretty wide range and there is plenty of material to work upon.

CRASH KILLS EIGHT PERSONS

GEORGIA SOUTHERN & FLORIDA PASSENGER TRAINS IN COLLISION.

24 PASSENGERS ARE HURT

Cars of One Train Are Telescoped While Those of Other Are Smashed to Pieces—High Speed Was Being Made.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 15.—Eight persons are reported dead, four probably fatally injured and 20 more or less seriously hurt as a result of head-on collision between southbound passenger train No. 5 and northbound train No. 2 on the Georgia Southern & Florida railroad, 19 miles south of this city.

Meet on Curve.
The passenger northbound left Bonair an hour late and was making the curve beyond Sandy Run creek at high speed. Agent Walton at Bonair had expected the two trains to meet at that point, but for some reason the passenger went on.

Engineer Lusk and his fireman of the Shoo Fly, jumped and were saved from instant death, but the engineer was badly injured.

What became of Engineer Yates and his fireman on No. 2 could not be learned.

Six Are Killed Outright.

The known dead are a man named Johnson and Woodward Dupree, a conductor riding as a passenger. Six others, whose names were not learned, were killed outright.

Conductor Goldwire and Baggage-master Steygur of the northbound train escaped injury. That train stayed well on the track but the cars were telescoped. The lighter southbound, was torn to pieces and death followed there.

J. R. KEANE IS POOL WITNESS

Tells Commissioner Members of Hocking Deals "Were Greedy."

New York, Feb. 15.—"My love!" exclaimed James R. Keane, greatest of Wall street manipulators, while on the witness stand before United States Commissioner Alexander, telling about the Hocking pool and its disruption "they (the pool members) were so greedy they determined to go ahead. I knew something would happen."

He explained that he had been forced into the second Hocking pool against his own judgment.

He had carried the members through one pool and they had made money. That seemed to whet their appetites. They wanted to go on and form another pool. He advised against it, but submitted under pressure. They bought the stock back, and, as he had feared, the crash came, the crash in which three firms went down to smash and bankruptcy. It was the fact that he made $254,000 for the first pool members that caused the greed. For just before he left the stand for the day he explained the first Hocking pool cleared that amount. The success and the prospect of more excited the members to urge him to go on.

All the speakers spoke on the income tax. Young Taft declared the need for it imperative. Machine which accurately registers heart throbs.

Philadelphia—Young man If you would know just how you stand in the regard of the girl you love, find some way to get her interested in a new scientific machine that is called by the unloved name of lethasymograph. According to Dr. Arthur Hotz, instructor in psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, this machine indicates unerringly what thoughts are hidden behind the mask of apparently reserved that the girl wears to hide from you her real feelings.

The machine consists merely of a rubber bag and series of rubber tubes connecting with a needle point on an indicator. The person whose emotions are being tested puts his or her arm into the rubber bag, which is then drawn tight and filled with water. Then the names of various young men of the girl's acquaintance are introduced into the conversation and the indicator begins to do tricks. If the indicator begins to do tricks, the

GRANDPA SCATTERGOOD

An Important Open Letter

We have just closed our inventory. Our great stocks are filled with fresh, new goods characteristically bright and smart. We are entering into the new 1910 season with the same freshness and enthusiasm that marked the opening year of our satisfactory business. We intend to make this year a banner year. We purpose that the public shall have an opportunity to know our goods thoroughly. Our daily announcements will keep you posted on our bargains and give you bright and interesting information about our goods. The spirit of enterprise pervades this store always. We do not intend to see a sleepy day, an idle hour or a wasted minute in the seasons opening wide before us.

And because cash buying and cash selling always have been and always will be the essentials of true economy, we have conducted this store upon a cash basis in order to save money where the merchant buying on credit cannot save. And in turn we offer actual savings that cannot be obtained, under ordinary conditions, on goods of equal quality bought at a credit store.

We buy for cash from The Mill, The Factory, and Wholesaler, and because we buy for cash the choicest merchandise is offered us at the closest figures; we buy more cheaply because we buy for two big stores at the same time—our Beloit and Janesville stores; we take all discounts on all our bills; we eliminate expensive book-keeping; we do not have to earn interest on money tied up in "charge accounts"; we lose no money on bad accounts.

When you buy, do not merely "pay cash" but buy at THE CASH STORE, managed on cash basis, where cash buying means economical buying. Our merchandise bears one price, and nothing can ever induce us to price our goods a shade of variation from their real value. Every article sold, you may regard as warranted and you should always feel secure as to quality and price. Our business of 30 years standing has been built upon goodness-in-the-goods and fairness in merchandising.

TAFT WARNS THE TRUSTS

ATTORNEY GENERAL PROMISES
PROSECUTIONS OF ILLEGAL COMBINES.

CORPORATION ACT NO REFUGE

Asserts Measure Will Absolve None from Provisions of the Sherman Law—All Legitimate Interests Will Be Carefully Safeguarded.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The Taft administration has entered upon a bitter, relentless war-to-a-finish on the lawless trusts.

There issued another proclamation from the administration in this struggle—a manifesto from the office of Attorney General Wickesham, driving home the threats of President Taft in his New York speech. It is in the nature of a final warning which clearly and explicitly sets forth the purpose of the administration, explaining the plan and scope of the proposed federal incorporation law, and specifically points out that no corporation shall delude itself with the belief that this law will be in the nature of a shield under which it can take refuge from the Sherman anti-trust law. It is rather to "secure a compliance with the anti-trust law," that the federal incorporation law has been drafted, the attorney-general declares.

Answers All Criticisms.

This statement, issued after consultation with the president may be regarded as an answer to all the criticisms that have been passed on the proposed law, as well as a final assurance to the "interests" that the administration is in earnest and that the president means precisely what he says.

"It was not the intention of the administration in enacting this act to be introduced," says the attorney general, "to provide a refuge for trusts nor through its enactment, to repeat the Sherman act. It was pointed out by the president in his message of January 7, 1910, that its purpose was to provide for the grant of a federal charter to an industrial combine "to make and sell in interstate and foreign commerce the products of useful manufacture, under such limitations as will assure a compliance with the anti-trust law."

Power to Bring Suit.

Having quoted the president as to his purpose the attorney general proceeds:

"The bill was carefully drawn to carry out the president's suggestions. It provides for the formation of corporations to carry on the business of interstate trade and commerce on a large scale, but in case companies formed under its provisions should monopolize or attempt to monopolize the trade and commerce of the country in any particular line, or combine to restrain interstate commerce, then the government, by its chief law officer, is specifically empowered to bring suit for the purpose of forfeiting the charter; and if the court shall find that the company is violating the Sherman act, it may appoint a receiver of its property either pending the suit or by final decree. This provision, while affording the government the most effective remedy to prevent violations of the Sherman act, carefully safeguards the legitimate interests of the corporation by giving it the day in court, and the opportunity of submitting any facts or circumstances tending to show that the conduct complained of does not amount to a violation of the anti-trust law."

HOUSE PASSES RIVER BILL.

Measure Includes Million Dollars for Illinois Deep Waterway.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The house passed the river and harbor bill which includes the million dollar item for the improvement of the Illinois river and co-operation in the digging of the Lockport to Utica canal, after a fight.

Thereby half of congress is committed to the deep waterway scheme. There is still a fight in the senate to come, however, and the attack will be led by Senator Burton of Ohio.

The scrapping against the item in the house was started by Representative Davidson of Wisconsin, and he had but little support, while against him were arrayed Mudd of Illinois, Russell of Louisiana, Lawrence of Massachusetts, Young of Michigan and Chaffee of Colorado. Speaker Cannon spoke for the general deep waterway plan.

CONFESSES TO LOOTING OF OHIO TREASURY

Former Partner of State Printer Slater Admits Wholesale Plundering Through Padded Bills.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—Disclosures of wholesale thievery in connection with state printing contracts were made before the legislative investigating committee and as result state detectives are scouring the country for Mark Slater, former supervisor of state printing. The disclosures of grafting were made by J. E. Bresford of Dayton, former partner of Slater. According to the confession of Bresford, from whom Slater bought goods, he and Slater divided $15,700, drawn from the state treasury on vouchers for the payment for stock never delivered to the state printing department.

Bresford said that he padded his bill and that Slater then allowed it to go through, passed it himself, got the money and divided with him (Bresford). The Dayton man told the committee that he personally secured about two thousand dollars by these fraudulent means and that Slater got the rest, which was close to thirteen thousand dollars.

Slater is now in Michigan, it is supposed, and two detectives will be sent there by the committee to secure his return. When last heard from, Slater wrote that he was very busy and that he could not come to Ohio. This letter was dated in Dowagiac, Mich.

The committee say he must report here.

He soon recovered sufficiently to declare that he did not think he was seriously hurt. Physicians remained with him until the car was attached to a westbound train.

the state, where sections of the proposed road do not join.
"A tax of 1 mill has been levied, and I estimate, with the assessed value of the state at approximately $900,000,000, this will bring in $850,000 at least for use in improving roads. With this amount on hand some definite plan for a continuous state road should be made.

"The largest appropriation ever made for state roads was $225,000. Seventeen appropriations were made for improvement of state roads in 1909, and in no instance were these roads connected. I do not favor carrying on the work in this manner. I believe a route should be selected for a state road that would best accommodate the largest percentage of residents and then every effort be used in a continuous betterment of that road.

"The route, as I have made out, will pass through or near Bellingham, Everett, Seattle, Tacoma, Centralia, Chehalis, Vancouver, Walla Walla, Spokane, Wenatchee, Ellensburg and again to Seattle. A road following this route would accommodate 75 per cent of the people of the state.

"The Northern Pacific railroad has promised to give six miles of an old roadbed in the southern part of Lewis county for a state road, which will be a great help and saving.

"There is no one man in the state that is doing more for good roads than Samuel Hill. Although what he has accomplished is well known. In the western part of the state, the residents in the eastern part are not so so well acquainted with his work along this line.

"Soon after I was elected governor, Mr. Hill came to me and said he would give one full year of his time wholly in the interests of better roads in the state. He has done as good as his word and even better, for he has spent thousands of dollars in furthering his plans.

"He has given to the state a machine for the spreading of roadbed material. He has paid the expenses of one of the best road engineers in England to go to Seattle and deliver an address. Upon his invitation, R. H. Thompson, city engineer of Seattle, and Prof. Samuel Lancaster of the state University of Washington were taken to England and enjoyed a three month trip inspecting roads in that country."

The Gazette Want Ads are the most remunerative proposition I ever had to deal with. I have spent hundreds of dollars a year in other places for advertising purposes, but all things considered, the money I have spent most profitably for advertising purposes has been with The Gazette Want Ad department.

I don't see why you don't have a full page of Want Ads each day. They are a most wonderful medium for GETTING RESULTS.

Before and After.

He wanted a knife in his Christmas stocking—
He wanted a watch of gold;
He wanted an engine to go by steam,
And some horses grey and bold;
He wanted an auto to skip along—
He wanted a ride, too;
He wanted some rubber boots, and he
Just wanted some skates so new;
A dog would do, if not a goat,
And as much as a dollar bill;
And yet he hoped for a diamond pin,
And a sled to slide down hill.

He wanted a two-pound box of sweets,
Or peanuts he wanted more;
With grapes and figs and other truck,
And a flying machine to soar.
He went to bed and sweetly slept,
And awoke with the crowing cock;
And a drowsy cold it stared at him
From out of his Christmas stock!

BROOKLYN'S PITCHING STARS—AT LEFT, NAP RUCKER; AT RIGHT, GEORGE BELL.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—In Nap Rucker and George Bell, Brooklyn has two pitchers who are easily credited with being about the highest class of the offerings of the National-American League. There isn't a major leaguer but would jump at a chance to grab off either of these stars. Give them to Cincinnati and the Reds would have a splendid chance to romp through to the pennant, but they are trolley dodgers and thus are held back by the team behind them. Slip them into such organizations as the Pirates or Cubs and they would be the men to choose Mordecai and Christy Mathewson and Howard Cannizz for honors. Rucker is pretty generally recognized as the best left-hander in the National League. Last fall he was injured in a hunting accident, but has now fully recovered and is ready to go next spring. Last season he won 13 and lost 19 games. Bell holds a high position among the right-handers. He won 16 and lost 15 games last season. What would these two stars be with a whining club?

Little Whipline Now Taken.
The amount of whalebone taken annually does not now much exceed 25,000 pounds. The largest part of this is taken by the whalers sailing out of ports on the Pacific coast. Years ago the amount taken was as much as 500,000 pounds annually.

FEBRUARY SALE

During this month there are great big values in every department of our store. Among the stocks you will find bargains greater than you ever expected, and bigger, better bargains than you'll find elsewhere. Among the many, we note below:

Coats Half Price

At one-half price we place on sale every Cloak for misses and children, and every Coat for women in stock. And even less on many models.

Mentor Underwear at One-Third Off

A big sample line of Mentor Underwear for spring wear has just been received and we have placed the entire lot on sale at one-third less than regular prices. Mentor Comfort Underwear is known the world over as being an exceptionally high class line.

Sterling Muslin Underwear at One-Third Off

The famous Sterling Muslin Underwear, the sample line which was made to show to the trade for this spring's selling. Every garment is perfect and some of the most beautiful creations we have ever seen are included in this sale. One-third less than regular prices on everything. Many have remarked upon the beauty of the garments and the substantial reductions.

Which Is Your Choice?

If you are sick with a stomach or bowel disorder, there are two methods of dealing with your malady and being cured. One is to continue as you have been, taking home a bottle of medicine when your supply is exhausted, continuing your indiscretions in regard to food, sleep or whatever else may happen to be your failing. Paying out a few dollars now and then, in the end amounting to a considerable sum of money. Working or playing with about one-third of your usual energy and enjoyment. In other words getting out of life about one-third of the enjoyment you should naturally have and cutting down your earning capacity about the same amount and in several months or years being cured, with all the expense and waste of energy incurred.

The other method consists of coming to the Beloit Riverview Sanitarium to live for probably about three weeks depending on the severity of your trouble. Receiving treatment which is peculiarly adapted to your case and which is only decided on after mature deliberation. Therefore the results obtained with you will be eminently satisfactory. You will be able to return home in a short time with your health entirely restored and years added to your life. Your earning ability increased, also your capacity for enjoyment and the expense moderate in comparison with the other method which while it is taking your money constantly only gives you about one-third of your capacity for earning. We can demonstrate conclusively to you that what we claim is perfectly reasonable and we will be pleased to do so if you will call on our physician, Dr. F. J. Hamlin, who will be at the Myers Hotel Wednesday, February Fifteenth.

A Typical Case

Recently a lady came into our store to purchase a few small articles.

Incidentally she said: "I've been trying to get these things for several days but haven't had the opportunity to come down after them." If she had known of our special delivery system she might have had them at once, without any extra charge. We say, "If she had known." That's what we are trying to do—let you know that we deliver to any part of the city at any time without extra charge.

This $30.00Eldredge Sewing $22.50 Machine

One of the greatest sewing machine bargains ever put out. This $30.00 Eldredge embodies every modern improvement that is found in the highest priced machines in the market, it has a complete set of attachments, and is made throughout of the best of materials.

The reason this $30.00 machine is offered at $22.50 is that the Company had a surplus of woodwork and as the styles in the woodwork of the machines change often, rather than see these remain unsold, they reduced the price to us so that we can offer them at $22.50. We have other good machines as low as $18.00. The machine offered above is positively a $30.00 machine and the best of its kind ever offered.

See them in the window, and come in and we will demonstrate the machine at any time.

Do You Get Up
With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fully relieves every pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and relieves pain in passing urine, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble.When writing mention you saw this advertisement in this paper and you will receive free a sample bottle of Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root.Dr. Kline's and Company, the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root,
Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root, and the ad-

The Optimist's Corner Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

Have you had disappointments, doubts, sorrows, trouble? So have we all. They are the weeds that grow in all highways. We may be unable to pull these rank growths out by the roots and cast them from us. We may not be able to forget the past entirely. But we are under no compulsion to make for ourselves needless burdens. No one escapes trouble, so that you have no monopoly in suffering. But, just as one goes unscathed, so it is true that no one is afflicted with all the troubles of the world. We have our compensations; those who have known misfortune and disappointment are often given ample opportunities and larger compensations.

Don't whine! If the world buffet us let us not be utterly cast down. We will wrest its good opinion, its golden fruits, from it yet. We will at least not throw the orange away until we have squeezed all the juice out of it.

"Make the best of things." This homely phrase is, after all, the shibboleth of life. It is the faculty of seeing some good—of drawing some inspiration from the most hidden source, that makes life endurable, that glorifies it. If you are unsatisfied with your achievements, you can still find your reward in your home, your friendships in the enlargement of your charities and in the misfortunes you have escaped.

young fella."

"Not in it! You don't know whom you are addressing. I'm not only in the game, but I'm in to the finish," declared Ardmore, sitting upright in his chair. "You've got the wrong idea, my friend, if you think you can intimidate me. That jug was given me by a friend, very old and dear friend—"

"A friend of yours?"

The keen little gray eyes were blinking rapidly.

"One of the best friends I ever had in this world," and Ardmore's face showed feeling. "He and I changed sides by side through the bloodiest battles of our civil war. I will cheerfully give you my watch, or money in any sum; but the jug—I will part with my life first!" And now," concluded Ardmore, "while I should be glad to continue this conversation, my duties call him never but once before visited an American public building—the New York city hall—and he felt that now, indeed, he had turned a corner and entered upon a new and strange world. He ascended to the toy-like legislative chambers, where flags of nation and state hung side by side, and where the very seats and desks of the lawmakers spoke of other times and manners."

"I took that jug from my brother by lyin' to 'im. He telephoned me to git it, and I'm a-goin' to do it."

"Your brother sent you?" It was men of him to ask you to call on me. Why, I've known your brother intimately for years."

"Known my brother?" and for the first time the man really seemed to doubt himself. "When did you know Bill?"

"We roomed together at Harvard, that's how I know him, if you force me to it! We're both Hasty Pudding men. Now if you try to bulldoze me further, I'll slap your wrists. So there!"

Ardmore entered the hotel deliberately, climbed to his room and locked the door. Then he seized the little brown jug, drew the stopper and poured out a tumblerful of clear white fluid. He took a swallow and shuddered as the fiery liquid seemed instantly to cause every part of his being to tingle. He wiped the tears from his eyes and sat down. The cork-neck stopper had fallen to the floor, and he picked it up and examined it carefully. It had been fitted tightly into the mouth of the jug by the addition of a bit of calico, and he fingered it for a moment with a grin on his face.

He was about to replace it when, to his astonishment, it broke in his fingers, and out fell a carefully folded slip of paper. He carried it to the window and opened it, finding that it was an ordinary telegraph blank on which was written in clear round characters these words:

The Appleweight crowd never done you harm. If you have any of them arrested, you will be shot down on your own doorstep.

The Appleweight crowd never done you harm. If you have any of them arrested, you will be shot down on your own doorstep.

"Oh, yes; to be sure. Let me see; it's over this way to the mansion, isn't it?" inquired Ardmore.

"No; out the other end of the building—and turn to your right. You can't miss it."

The room was quiet, the secretary a young man of address and intelligence. Here, without question, was the place for Ardmore to discharge his business and be quit of it; but having at last snatched a commission from floating opportunity it was not for him to throw it to another man. As he opened the door to leave, the secretary arrested him.

"Oh, Mr.—pardon me, but did you come in from the south this morning?"

"Yes; I came up on the Tar Heel express from Atlanta."

"To be sure. Of course you didn't sit up all night? There's some trouble brewing around Kildare, I thought you might have heard something, but of course you couldn't have been awake at two o'clock in the morning."

"The secretary was so anxious to appearances, exactly as it had been when delivered to Ardmore on the rear of the train at Kildare, and he was thoroughly well pleased with himself. He changed the blue scarf with which he had begun the day for one of purple with gold bars, and walked up the street toward the statehouse.

This venerable edifice, mockingly reposing amid noble trees, struck agreeably upon Ardmore's fancy. Here was government enthroned in quiet dignity, as becomes a venerable commonwealth, wearing its years like a veteran who has known war and tumult, but finds at last tranquillity and peace. He experienced a feeling of awe, without quite knowing it, as he strolled up the walk, climbed the steps to the portico and turned to look back from the shadow of the pillars. He had never but once before visited an American public building—the New York city hall—and he felt that now, indeed, he had turned a corner and entered upon a new and strange world.

He ascended to the toy-like legislative chambers, where flags of nation and state hung side by side, and where the very seats and desks of the lawmakers spoke of other times and manners.

"I enjoyed meeting your father so much, Miss Dangerfield. I think we are always likely to be afraid of great men, but your father made me feel at home at once. And he tells such capital stories—I've been laughing over them even since I left New Orleans."

"I suppose, Mr. Ardmore, that you saw papa at the luncheon at the Pharo club in New Orleans?"

"Why, yes, Miss Dangerfield. It was there I met the governor!"

"Are you sure it was there, Mr. Ardmore?"

"Why, I think that was the place. I don't know my New Orleans as I should, but—"

Ardmore was suddenly conscious that Miss Dangerfield had risen and that she stood before him, with her fair face the least bit flushed, her blue eyes alight with anger, and that the hands at her sides were clenched nervously.

"My father was not at luncheon at the Pharo club, Mr. Ardmore. You never saw my father in your life. I know why it is you came here, and if you are not out of that door in one second I shall call the servants and have them throw you out."

She ceased abruptly and turned to look into the hall where steps sounded.

"Is that you, Jerry?"

"Yes, mamma; I'll be up in just a minute. Please don't wait for me. It's only the man to see about the plumbing."

The lady who had appeared for an instant at the door went on slowly up the stairs, and the girl held Ardmore silent with her steady eyes until the step died away above.

"I know what you want my father for. Mr. Billings and you are both pursuing him—it's infamous, outrageous! And it isn't his fault. I would have you know that my father is an honorable man!"

The bayonets were at his breast; he would ask for mercy.

He would take this earliest train for Ardmore and bury himself there for the remainder of his days. He had hardly formed this resolution when a light step sounded in the hall, and Miss Geraldine Dangerfield stood at the threshold. Her good resolutions went down like a house of cards.

"Miss Dangerfield," he began, "I had the pleasure of meeting your father in New Orleans the other day, and as I was passing through town unexpectedly, I thought I should give myself the pleasure of calling on him. He said that in case I found him absent I might call upon you. In fact, he wrote a line on a card for me to present, but I stupidly left it at my hotel."

They faced each other in the dim, cool room for what seemed to him endless centuries. She was much younger than he had imagined; but her eyes were blue, just as he remembered them, and her abundant light hair curled away from her forehead in pretty waves, and was tied today with a large bow of blue ribbon.

"Won't you please sit down, Mr. Ardmore?"

And when they were seated there was another pause, during which the blue eyes continued to take account of him, and he fingered his tie, fearing sure that there was something wrong with it.

"It's warm, isn't it?"

"I suppose it is. It's a way summer has, of being mostly warm."

He was quite sure that she was laughing at him; there was a tinge of irony in the very way in which she pronounced "wa'm," lingeringly, as though to prolong her contempt for his stupidity in not finding anything better to say.

"I enjoyed meeting your father so much, Miss Dangerfield. I think we are always likely to be afraid of great men, but your father made me feel at home at once. And he tells such capital stories—I've been laughing over them even since I left New Orleans."

Itching palm, sores, split toes, piles, and scaly scalp, all of which are different forms of eczema, accompanied by severe Itching and caused by imperfect digestion and careless diet. Iodine cures all of them. It is a safe, simple, effective remedy. The Smith Drug Co. and the People's Drug Co. make especially of it.
